BOARD OF TRADE.

LARGELY ATTENDED SPECIAL MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT.

Situation Created by Veto of Beard Bill Discussed—Many Resolutions Submitted—Much Animated Talk.

One of the largest attended meetings in the history of the Board of Trade was the special meeting held in Central Hall on Tuesday night to consider the situation created by Governor Wilson's veto of the Beard bill. The discussion was participated in by many members of the board and covered a wide latitude even to the toleration of an interesting paper on the Imhoff system of sewage disposal and the advocacy of its use here. The members were late in arriving at the hall and it was considerably past the appointed hour when President Hungerford called the meeting to order and stated the particular object of the call. Mr. Hungerford gave a review of the several incidents connected with the passing of the Beard bill through the House and Senate and its veto by the governor. In response to the president's call to those present to make known their further intent with respect to the bill, Clarence M. Van Winkle promptly submitted a resolution conveying the thanks of the Board of Trade to Senator Johnson of Bergen county for his assistance in getting the bill through the Senate.

Mr. Beaton opposed the resolution as not having any relative importance to the particular question before the meeting and contrary to the call.

Mr. Gilbert took issue with Mr. Beaton and told of Senator Johnson's part in the passage of the bill. It was the senator from Bergen county, Mr. Gilbert said, who introduced the bill in the Senate, and the people of this town were largely and specially indebted to him for his work.

Mr. McCroddan expressed the opinion that the bill was germane to the question before the meeting, particularly as a matter of policy in appreciating the services of friends and holding them. Mr. McCroddan, however, did not deem it wise to single out one member of the Legislature for special thanks and he offered an amendment to the resolution embracing all members of the Legislature who voted for the bill, and the resolution was amended as adopted.

Mr. Wentworth, assuming that it would be impossible to get the Beard bill passed over the governor's veto, advised that work be started on a new bill to be presented at the next session of the Legislature, and he outlined the framework of the kind of a bill that he thought should be introduced.

There was considerable discussion over his proposition and he finally withdrew it for the time being.

William P. Sturphen offered a resolution to the effect that the people of Montclair, East Orange and Orange be directly appealed to get the Beard bill passed over the governor's veto, and use their influence with their municipal officials to stop the plan of locating an Imhoff plant in this town.

Allison Dodd offered an amendment to Mr. Sturphen's resolution to the effect that a committee of three members of the board be appointed by the chairman to prepare resolutions embodying the spirit of the Sturphen resolution, but avoiding any appearance of inciting the people of those municipalities against their officials.

Mr. Sturphen made a member of the committee to prepare the resolution, and that the signature of the financial, manufacturing and other business interests of the town be secured to them.

John H. Parkin introduced a resolution, which, among other things, charged that Governor Wilson's veto of the Beard bill was inconsistent with the governor's declaration on home rule principles in his pre-election speeches.

Mr. McCroddan approved of Mr. Parkin's resolution providing that clause reflecting upon the governor be stricken out, and he offered an amendment to that effect.

Mr. Gilbert moved to have Mr. McCroddan's amendment laid on the table, and a rising vote was taken resulting in a very close vote of 41 against Mr. Gilbert's motion and 40 in favor of it.

The Parkin resolution, as amended by Mr. McCroddan was then adopted and was as follows: "The people of Bloomfield are deeply interested in preventing the establishment within the borders of the town of a disposal plant, and that it is contrary to the principles of home rule to permit any municipality to establish its disposal plant within the borders of another municipality without the latter's consent, and that the Passaic Valley trunk sewer affords an ample and satisfactory way of disposing of all the sewage of the Oranges and Montclair without jeopardizing the health of the towns of Bloomfield, Belleville and Nutley."

George W. Heath offered a resolution in favor of rescinding the invitation to Governor Wilson to speak at the centennial celebration here, but it was ruled out of order.

In the course of the evening's remarks, Frank K. Gahs said that he had talked with many people in Montclair and found them opposed to the Imhoff scheme.

Michael N. Higgins gave a contrary description of public sentiment in Montclair to that given by Mr. Gahs.

The sensational feature of the evening was the seed that never fails. Quality always pays. Try it—Omnex & Cadmus.

was the reading of a paper by James E. Brooks, praising the Imhoff system of sewage disposal and advocating its adoption here. Once during his reading a point of order was raised and he appealed to the chair. The meeting voted, however, to let Mr. Brooks finish his paper. Mr. Gilbert, Mr. Barker and others replied to Mr. Brooks.

H. B. Davis, R. C. Barrett, Mr. Starkweather, Mr. Beck and Mr. Seidler were among others who took part in the discussions of the evening.

Church-Schmidt.

Miss Katharine Elizabeth Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Herman Schmidt of "Gray Gables," in Ridgewood avenue, was married Monday evening to Samuel Orvis Church of East Orange, in the Glen Ridge Congregational Church, at the sunset hour. The only lights used were candles.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Richardson Williams of Glen Ridge, who also officiated at the marriage of the bride's parents. He was assisted by Rev. Clarence Hall Wilson, pastor of the church, and by Rev. Dr. Fred Clare Baldwin of Calvary Methodist Church, East Orange. Professor Carl G. Schmidt of Brooklyn, a former teacher of the bride, played during the ceremony.

The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Ward of Newark and Miss Margaret Harris of Glen Ridge. Miss Ruth Eno Howe of East Orange was maid of honor, and Mrs. Nathan Burton Fitch of New Haven was matron of honor. George Carrington of New York was best man, and the ushers were Nathan Burton Fitch of New Haven, Colburn Pinkham of New York, Joseph Ely of Montclair, and Stuart Bingham of East Orange.

After the ceremony a reception for relatives and close friends of the young couple was held at the home of the bride's parents. Besides the bridal party in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Schmidt, parents of the bride, and Mrs. Church, mother of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Church left during the evening on a wedding trip. They will return to Glen Ridge in a few days before leaving for Tower, Mich., where they will make their home.

The church was decorated for the ceremony with Easter lilies and palms. The bridesmaids entered from each side of the altar, passing down the center aisle to meet the bride, matron of honor and maid of honor at the door. The bridal procession then proceeded up the middle aisle, led by the ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was crowned in white satin pearls and trimmed with rose point lace. Her point lace veil was held in place by bands of pearls. She wore as her only ornament the bridegroom's gift, a circle of diamonds set in platinum.

The maid of honor, Miss Howe, was gowned in violet charmeuse, veiled with shadow lace. She carried pink primroses. The bridesmaids were gowned in pink charmeuse and shadow lace, and carried arm bouquets of pink primroses. Both wore gold bandeaux with pink paradise plumes in their hair. Mrs. Fitch, the matron of honor, a recent bride, wore her wedding gown of white satin and lace and carried a half shower bouquet of lavender and white lilies.

Masonic Ladies' Night.

On Wednesday evening, May 1, Bloomfield Lodge, No. 40, F. and A. M., will hold its eleven hundredth Stated Communication, and to mark this important event in its history it has been decided that a ladies' night would be the most fitting celebration. The committee has arranged an excellent program and other details for such a celebration to be held in Central Hall, and to meet the incidental expenses have found it necessary to charge for members' tickets (admitting lady) $2.00 each. Guest tickets will be furnished at the nominal price of 25 cents each.

Base-Ball.

The fast Broughton Club will open the season Saturday, April 13, meeting the strong semi-professional team representing the Whirlwind A. C. of Newark. The Bay avenue grounds have been put in first-class condition, and the management hopes a good crowd will welcome the only semi-pro team playing in Bloomfield on Saturday afternoon. The management has games pending with the Nutley A. C., Far Hills, Perth Amboy and teams of like strength which should furnish the club's supporters with a fast article of ball.

The second game of the season will be with the Hustler A. C. of Newark.

Permit for Pole.

Following permission by Henry Albison, chairman of the lighting committee of the Town Council, an electric light pole was put up in Walnut terrace. The pole is to hold wires of the Public Service Electric Company. The pole was on hand to protect the property owners in their protest and refused to allow the pole to go up until Mr. Albison gave other orders.

Mrs. John Klen and Mrs. James Flannery, owners of property affected, assert that they will fight to have the pole removed. The matter will be considered by the council Monday night.

FIGHT AGAINST VETO.

Made by Messrs. Gilbert and Higgins at Trenton—Lacked but Three Votes of Success—Fight will be Renewed Friday.

Seymour P. Gilbert and Michael N. Higgins made a great fight at Trenton on Thursday to get the Beard bill passed over the governor's veto. They were ably seconded in their efforts by County Chairman Dalrymple of the Republican committee and State Chairman Nugent of the Democratic committee. They succeeded in getting pledges of assurance that the members of the House would pass the bill over the veto, provided, however, that a guarantee could be given that a sufficient number of senators would concur in order to make the action of the House effective.

After laboring all day and bringing all possible influences to bear they could only muster eight senators to vote in favor of overriding the veto. They were just three votes short. Much effort was made to secure Senator Colgate's vote, but he could not be moved from his original attitude towards the bill.

Mr. Higgins had a personal talk with Governor Wilson over the matter, and the governor again went over his reasons for his veto.

Mr. Higgins also learned from the governor's private secretary that the chief executive would take no offense at all if the bill was passed over the veto and would interpose no objections to that action on the part of the Legislature. The governor, Mr. Tumulty told Mr. Higgins, was willing to let the matter rest on the reasons given for his veto.

Robert M. Boyd of Montclair, was at the capitol working hard to forestall the upsetting of the veto. Mr. Boyd told Mr. Higgins that Mr. Gilbert has certainly done great work for the Beard bill. Both Gilbert and Higgins found a number of senators and assemblymen who, while they were in sympathy with the Whitefield-Belleville situation, yet they conceded that their was much force in the reasons for the veto, when considered from a statewide standpoint.

City Councilman Nugent of Newark said that whether the bill was vetoed or not, the city of Newark would not stand for any pollution of the Passaic river from the proposed plant.

Senator Johnson who fathered the Beard bill in the Senate again helped Mr. Gilbert in his efforts to get votes to pass the bill over the veto. The Senate adjourned to meet again next Tuesday to act on bills that were not reached Thursday, and another fight is expected.

Mayor Hauser was at the State House on Thursday afternoon to assist in getting the bill passed over the veto. Belleville and Nutley representatives were also present, but Messrs. Gilbert and Higgins were the main factors in the fight.

Tryon-Unangst.

The wedding of Miss Mary Gertrude Unangst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Milton Unangst, of South Hillside avenue, and Joseph Douglas Tryon, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tryon of Washington place, took place at the home of the bride Wednesday night. Rev. Alfred J. Derbyshire, of Grace Episcopal Church, the Bronx, performed the ceremony. Miss Marjorie Tryon, a sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. The best man was Charles Stafford Wayman of Chicago.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white crepe de chine trimmed with point applique lace and pearls. Her veil was held in place by a mob cap, fastened with orange blossoms. She wore a string of pearls and a sapphire bracelet, the gift of the groom. The maid of honor wore a gown of pink satin, veiled with shadow lace, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The reception room and library were decorated with palms and pink and white carnations and spirea, while the dining room was decked in yellow jonquils. Before the bridal party entered, Mrs. Margaret Bennett Webb, soloist of the First Presbyterian Church, sang Mendelssohn's "Wedding Song," and after the ceremony, "O, Perfect Love."

The mother of the bride wore a gown of white satin draped in black marquisette, trimmed with jet, and Mrs. Tryon, mother of the groom, was gowned in white marquisette over blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Tryon will be at home after May 1 at 4 Myrtle avenue, Roseville.

Schubert's Spring Festival.

The annual spring festival of the Schubert Oratorio Society of Newark will be held in the New Symphony Auditorium, Broad and Hill streets, on Wednesday evening, April 17, when Sir Arthur Sullivan's setting of Longfellow's Golden Legend will be sung by the society. This work is one of the most beautiful and popular of the modern choral works.

Louis Arthur Russell will be the conductor and the soloists, Mrs. Elizabeth Dodge Derby, soprano; Mrs. Marshall Pease, contralto; Alfred D. Shaw, tenor; George Reardon, basso.

The oratorio chorus will be accompanied by the Newark Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. C. J. Neff, Surgeon Chiropractor, treats all feet ailments. Office room No. 8 Trust Company building—Advt.

CHURCH NEWS.

Wassessing Church Welcomes Pastor—Haster Music will be Repeated in Christ Church—General Church Notes.

A very large congregation assembled in the Wassessing Methodist Church on Sunday morning to hear the new pastor of the church, the Rev. Berryman McCoy, formerly of the Sanford Street Methodist Church. Unfortunately the pastor was afflicted with an attack of throat trouble and was unable to preach, but he furnished an excellent substitute in the Rev. Elbert Clement, a former pastor of the Wassessing Church, who preached an eloquent and fervent sermon.

The Rev. Mr. McCoy preached at the evening service. He was given a warm welcome to his new charge. The Rev. Mr. McCoy will preach at both services to-morrow, and at the 10:30 a. m. service his subject will be "Guarding the Heart," at the 7:30 o'clock service, "A Sprited Sunrise."

Judge A. Z. Blair of Ohio, will speak in the Parish Hall of the Park Methodist Church on Monday evening the 15th inst., in the interest of the Anti-Saloon League. Judge Blair came into prominence in connection with the expose of traffic of votes in Ohio, which occurred about a year ago, when in Adams county, Ohio, he disfranchised 1,700 citizens because they made merchandise of their votes.

There were large congregations at all the services of the Church of the Ascension on Easter Day. The order of services tomorrow is as follows: Holy communion, 8 a. m.; Holy communion and sermon, 10:30 a. m.; Sunday-school, 2 p. m.; evening prayer and sermon, 8 p. m. Easter music will be repeated. Seats free. All welcome. The Knights of Pythias will attend service at the Church of the Ascension to-morrow evening.

The First Presbyterian Church Society will meet next Wednesday night to elect trustees, a treasurer and an auditing committee.

The Board of Ushers of the First Presbyterian Church has elected officers as follows: Thomas D. Anderson, president; Frank A. Bell, vice-president; Reeder S. Whitmore, secretary and treasurer.

Lewis K. Dodd, James W. Pierson and Robert W. Smith were installed as elders at the morning service in the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The Young Ladies' Travel Club of the First Baptist Church met Thursday night at the home of Miss Florence.

These officers were: Mrs. Frank H. Baker, president; Mrs. Leonard C. Haskell, vice-president; Mrs. Charles T. Carl, treasurer; Mrs. E. E. Browne, secretary.

The fifth annual June walk of the Sunday-schools of this county will be held on Saturday, June 1, which will be set apart as Sunday-school day. The Bloomfield division will be in charge of Howard M. Thomas, marshal. Captain W. S. Rowland is a member of the committee.

The Easter day music will be repeated at the morning service in Christ Episcopal Church to-morrow. At the half past four o'clock service the music will be as follows: Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis in D, Clare; offertory, "Christ the Lord is risen to-day," Rimbaud.

With several new clergymen among the delegates, the spring meeting of the Presbytery of Morris and Orange was begun in the West Orange Presbyterian Chapel Tuesday morning. Rev. David O. Irving, pastor of Bethel Presbyterian Church, East Orange, was elected moderator, his name being presented by Rev. Dr. George L. Richmond, of Boonton.

The Bryan Lecture.

Present indications are that the capacity of the First Methodist Church, Montclair, will be taxed to its utmost on the occasion of the lecture by William Jennings Bryan on Saturday evening, April 20, judging from the large number of seats that have already been sold.

Mr. Bryan's new lecture, "The Signs of the Times," has already proven even more pleasing to audiences than his famous "Prince of Peace" with which he has held the attention of thousands of people, both in this country and Europe during the past few years.

The new lecture deals with present-day conditions, and is entirely devoid of partisanship, and delivered in Mr. Bryan's inimitable style, is sure to hold for every moment of the evening even those most bitterly opposed to him in political belief.

The capacity of the First Methodist Church is approximately 1,100 seats; it is, therefore, obvious that those who desire to hear this lecture should arrange at once for tickets. They may now be secured from the Edward Madison Company, Montclair, either in person or by mail.

Captain Hayter to His Friends.

A letter from Captain Samuel G. Hayter states that he has undergone a successful operation for his eye trouble and his sight is much improved. The captain still continues his personal interest in Bloomfield affairs and sends his regards to all his friends here.

Board of Health.

A regular monthly meeting of the Board of Health was held Monday night. Governor Wilson's veto of the Beard bill was a theme of discussion. Seymour P. Gilbert interested the members of the board with an account of the work that had been done at Trenton in connection with the bill, and the board adopted a resolution thanking Assemblyman Beard of Glen Ridge and Senator Johnson of Bergen county for their efforts in behalf of House bill No. 201. The board also pledged its support to the Town Council in the continuation of the fight against the location of Imhoff sewage disposal tanks within the territory of this town.

Mr. Gilbert said that the only practical solution of the sewerage system in the vicinity was the Passaic valley trunk sewer, and municipalities that wanted to experiment with other systems should do so within their own territory.

An ordinance was passed imposing a fine of twenty-five dollars upon any person who shall remove the body of any domestic animal from the town without a license. Another ordinance, passed on first reading, imposes a fine of ten dollars for spitting on sidewalks, crosswalks, depot platforms or other public places.

The request of James Giovanni of Ferry street, Newark, to conduct a pig farm within the territory of this town was received and the permit refused, and an ordinance was passed prohibiting the keeping of swine within the limits of the town without a permit.

The report of Health Officer Dr. Saile showed seven cases of measles reported by physicians.

Entertained at Dinner.

Miss Alletta Williams of Ridgewood avenue entertained at dinner Tuesday night in honor of Miss Marion R. Scheffler and Clinton M. White, who will be married Tuesday night, April 23. Covers were laid for fourteen. The place cards were in the form of flower baskets. The guests were Miss Lucile Scheffler, Miss Margaret Harris, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. B. Fuller, Gordon Wilson, R. Richardson Williams, Jr., and Avy Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Moseley of Douglas road entertained at dinner Tuesday night for their son, James Moseley, Jr., and their daughter, Miss Daisy Moseley. Covers were laid for ten. The place cards were in the form of jonquils. The out-of-town guests were: Miss Agnes Clancy of New York, Miss Mabel Bull of New York, Miss Helen Wells of Titusville, Pa., and Miss Olive Wells of East Orange.

After the dinner about thirty extra guests came in for informal dancing.

The Laborer's Strike.

With the expectation that there would be trouble yesterday when the men in the employ of Superintendent Stimus of the town road department, went to work, Police Chief Collins had several of his men at Washington street and the Laocawanna bridge. Later all were withdrawn save one. Reserves, however, were ordered held at the police station.

Councilman Sadler, chairman of the police committee of the Town Council, has declared that the town will protect its employees at any cost and that the strikers "will get all they are looking for" if they persist in their efforts to force off the town laborers.

A delegate from the Montclair union had visited the new High School building in Broad street, yesterday, and refused to leave the grounds when ordered. Word was sent to the police but when Policeman Mertz reached the school the man had disappeared.

Farewell Coffee.

Mrs. John L. Gordon of Midland avenue, gave a "farewell coffee" for her daughter, Miss Ida Louise Gordon, who will be married to George W. Eddy of Frenchtown, at her home Tuesday afternoon, April 23. The house was decorated with palms and pink tulips. A musical program was given by Mrs. Fred Drecktrude of Jersey City and Miss Florence Mueller of Newark, soloists, and Miss Minnie O'Breier of Brooklyn and Miss Martha Ranner of Union Hill, pianists. A "kaffe klatsch" was served. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. H. Bahrenburg of Forest Hill, Mrs. E. H. Bahrenburg and Mrs. H. E. Mathewson of Roseville. Mrs. Fred Jagels of Amperre, Miss Dorothy Jagels of Summit, Mrs. John Miller, Misses Florence and Lillian Mueller and the Misses Wilba and Edna Wilkins of Jersey City.

Nutley Health Board.

Resolutions condemning the action of Governor Wilson in vetoing the Beard bill and scoring the "unneighborly" conduct of Orange, East Orange and Montclair in trying to force its sewage on Nutley, Belleville and Bloomfield were passed Tuesday night by the Nutley Board of Health at a special meeting.

The clerk of the board was instructed to send letters of thanks to Senator Johnson and Assemblyman Beard for their efforts in behalf of the three towns opposed to the Imhoff plan. Resolutions passed several weeks ago by the Bloomfield Board of Health were read and placed on file.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Johnson of Manhattan, have taken apartments in town.

BOROUGH COUNCIL.

DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE BY INCINCRATION DISCUSSED.

Joint Action with Other Towns Favored—Protest Against Compulsory Sidewalk Repairs—Roads to be Oiled.

Independent garbage disposal by Glen Ridge was disapproved as too costly in the report of the special committee to the Borough Council Monday night.

The committee favored joint disposal by Glen Ridge, Orange, East Orange and Montclair, if such an arrangement can be brought about. The system in use at Richmond, Staten Island, was favored as most practicable, if a joint agreement can be reached. The council will seek a conference with its neighbor municipalities in the near future.

The probable cost of an independent plant, including building and land, was put at $15,000, while the maintenance charge, including interest on the investment, was estimated at not to exceed $6,000 yearly.

A number of property owners demanded the recall of the resolution recently adopted, requiring property owners to relay sidewalks where deemed necessary by the street department. Action, however, was put off. Henry K. Benson, who had received a sidewalk notice, declared he would resist any invasion of his premises. He challenged the right of the council to "pester" property owners.

The contract for a sewer in Ridgewood avenue, from Bay avenue to Watchung avenue, was awarded to Joseph Lonzillo, of Montclair, on his bid of $12,342.

The oiling of roads was the subject of a long discussion. It was decided to oil the main thoroughfares and to award the contract to the Standard Oil Company. Eight miles of road will be treated.

Declaring that fires in the borough of late were due to carelessness, Councilman Root said a bureau of fire prevention had been organized, composed of the fire committee, fire chief and assistants and the superintendent of buildings, which intended to send out suggestions to householders. For this purpose, Mr. Root said, $50 would be needed and the money was voted.

A bill for its national corporation tax from the Orange Water Company, amounting to $200, was rejected and ordered returned, on the ground that the company is not a corporation under the terms of the act.

Through her attorney, the council received a communication from Miss M. C. Gallagher to the effect that Hillside avenue is being depressed in such a way as to make access to lots owned by her difficult and that action for damages would follow.

The council was aware of no depression as yet. The matter was referred to the legal committee.

Wells-Abel.

The marriage of Miss Arline Elizabeth Abel to Benjamin Franklin Wells of East Orange, took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barnard Abel, 48 Lincoln street, Glen Ridge, Thursday night. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Clarence Hall Wilson, pastor of the Glen Ridge Congregational Church.

Miss Helen Abel was her sister's maid of honor and wore a gown of pink charmeuse and shadow lace and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids, in gowns of pink satin veiled with blue chiffon and carrying shower bouquets of pink sweet pears, were Miss Fredericks of Titusville, Pa., Miss Olive Wells of East Orange, and Miss Harriet Lowen of Titusville, Pa.

Thurston R. Wells, twin brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man and the ushers were Carlton C. Perine of East Orange, Stanley B. Strachan, of East Orange, Frank W. Abel of Glen Ridge and Charles W. Stevenson of St. Paul, Minn.

The bride's gown was of white satin charmeuse trimmed with duchess point lace and her veil was draped in peasant cap style, festooned with orange blossoms. After a wedding trip to Bermuda Mr. and Mrs. Wells will live in New York.

The Legislature.

The two branches of the Legislature adjourned late Thursday night until 11 o'clock next Tuesday morning. The Senate had practically completed its business, but the House has a large bunch of vetoes still to consider.

The two branches expect to bring all business to a close next Tuesday. It is possible adjournment may then be taken until the following Tuesday to allow the governor to veto any of the new legislation passed this week and next. But Senator Edge, majority leader in the upper house, said yesterday that adjournment sine die would probably be taken next Tuesday. Only a few bills would then await the governor's action, he said, and the Republicans would probably allow him to do with the bills as he saw fit.
